To Whom It May Concern,

Laservision is an international company with offices in Singapore and Hong Kong providing High Technology entertainment worldwide. Based in Australia, we have been in operation spanning four decades.

I first met Rod Cummings as the District Manager for National Australia Bank and was immediately impressed with the fact that he took an interest in understanding the uniqueness of our business. More so, he was prepared to take calculated risks alongside us because he had taken the time to appreciate our operation.

Rod eventually set up his own successful company, Option One, which specialises in corporate and private finance needs. Rod, Option One and Laservision have enjoyed a strong partnership over the last decade allowing us to pursue large contracts overseas, often at short notice. Laservision, as a result, has been able to achieve a number of strategic benchmarks including but not limited to:

- National Exporter of the Year
- Australia's Best Small Business
- Inaugural Government Entrepreneur of the Year
- World's Largest Light and Sound Show

I have enjoyed the high calibre of support from Rod and his team at Option One and regard him as a key attribute to the success of our organisation.

Yours sincerely

Paul McCloskey
